PACKERS THREATEN DOMINATION OF WHOLESALE GROCERY TRADE, CHARGED

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 16.—(AP)—The Federal Trade Commission today charged the five big packing companies of Chicago with attempting to dominate the wholesale grocery trade and already handle more than 50 per cent of the meat packing business, many of them directly competitive as meat substitutes, is made in Part IV of the Federal Trade Commission's report on the industry, published today.

The extent of which the packers should be permitted to enter unrelated food lines (even assuming legitimate competitive methods) is the report said, "is a matter which the public interest alone should determine."

"Two questions, primarily economic, are involved: 'Does this widening of activity result in additional economies of production and distribution?' 'Does it result, and will it continue to result, to the public in lower prices and better quality of product and service?'"

A third question, not here discussed, relates to the ultimate effect of such trust and powerful organizations on the political and social fabric of American institutions.

Included in the list of commodities said to be falling under control of the "big five" are poultry and game, dairy products, lard and butter substitutes, canned and dried vegetables and fruit, coffee, molas and cane, corn and as a whole, which will show just how far the packer's control has reached.

"Many companies manufacturing or handling these commodities are controlled by packer interests, no hint of which is disclosed by the names under which they operate and even a thorough-going examination may fail to uncover the packer's connection in every case."

Four of the packers, Swift, Wilson, Armour and Cudahy, the report states, through their subsidiaries, are not including family controlled companies, handled in 1918, 93 percent of dressed poultry and 33 percent of shipped eggs. The same four handled 39 percent of all factory made cheese in 1918, the report says.

Lobby, McNeal, and Libby, W. Swift (concern, along handled 10.4 percent of all evaporated and condensed milk in 1918, according to the report.

The Armour Grain Company, a factory in the cereal and breakfast food business, reported surplus undivided profits for the year 1917, of $3,126,839, played at 49.4 percent of the total, and undivided profits at 51 per cent.

CHICAGO, Oct. 16.—Louis F. Swift, president of Swift and Company, today issued a statement denying the charges that the five big packers by enlarging the scope of their business threaten to control the wholesale grocery trade of the country, which are contained in the latest report of the federal trade commission.

Armies Hammer The Bolsheviks On Four Fronts

COPENHAGEN, Oct. 16.—A British-French squadron of more than twenty warships has arrived at Riga, according to a British private report received here.

LONDON, Oct. 16.—A general statement by the Bolsheviks before the arrival of Admiral Kolchak in Western Siberia is announced in a wireless message from the Russian government at Omsk, dated Oct. 15.

LONDON, Oct. 16.—Foreed back by the onslaughts of enemies on four fronts, the armies of the Soviet government of Russia appear to be facing a perilous struggle with disaster.

General Denikin's Cossacks from the south, Polish forces from the west, and the Russian army from the north, have during the last few days, forced ahead until it was the Bolsheviks' armies are between the upper and lower Dnieper.

General Denikin is reported to be in the position of capturing, in the opinion of observers, General Vindtshin being at Gatchina, only 27 miles south of the former Russian capital.

In the extreme north the northern Russian army has broken the resistance of the Bolsheviks, according to reports, and are pushing the enemy back toward Olenok, a village about 150 miles west of Archangel. Further to the north it has forced its way far across the Dnieper river. Polish forces have captured Kormo, on the northern bank of their river. Denikin's men have driven a giant wedge into central Russia as far as the Dnieper and are thought to be on their way toward Tula, an important railway center that is considered the key to Moscow. That of the Cossacks is a vital factor in the situation which is developing in Russia.

General Denikin and Admiral Kolchak are said to be operating in close co-operation.

West of General Denikin's army, a force of Ukrainians who, while they are to be hostile to the Bolsheviks, have declared war on Denikin because of alleged atrocities perpetrated by the latter's soldiers in their advance toward Moscow. Reports have been received, however, that part of the Ukrainian army has joined Denikin.

The Russian army has been forced back to the west, and the Russian army has been forced back to the west, and the Russian army has been forced back to the west.

Germans And Austrians Forced To Strategic Retreat On Vistula By The Onrushing Siberian Troops

Two factors caused Ludendorff to lose the battle of the Vistula, fought on a 250-mile line from October 4 to 27, 1914, in an effort to hold the Russian armies far from the western frontier of Germany.

First—He found in the Siberian troops foes worthy to meet his well-trained veterans.

Second—The Austrian command blundered and the Austrian troops were unable to defeat the Russians.

Just as Ludendorff had seized the line of the Vistula, in the hope of holding it against the 1,200,000 troops the Grand Duke was concentrating, the Russian commander delivered a blow from Warsaw with the Siberians. It was a blow.

All possible German troops were sent to help hold this blow at a vital point and the Austrians had to take over more of the upper Vistula, including the Ivangorod bridgehead. Mackensen could not hold the Siberians and had to try to form a new line fifty miles from Warsaw.

Just as he was doing this the Austrian disaster came. General Conrad had a brilliant scheme to let the Russians cross at Ivangorod, then to fall on them and destroy them. As Ludendorff sadly remarks, "They had allowed too many to cross." The whole line had to go back quickly as possible close to the German frontier. The troops coined the phrase which was to figure so often later in German war talk—"Strategic Retreat."

Austrians Led Too Many Russians Across At Ivangorod—Hoped to Annihilate Them There—Forced to Retreat Almost To German Frontier.

SPARED COUNTRYSIDE AND DESTROYED THE RAILROADS, SAYS LUDENDORFF

By GENERAL ERICH LUDENDORFF

The Austrian army to the south of the Vistula had not succeeded in crossing the river San, or gaining any ground east of Przemyśl (Oct. 16, 1914). General von Conrad was more the less still hopeful of success.

The longer the decision south of the river San was delayed, the more urgent became the need of reinforcing the left wing of the 9th Army. In view of its increasingly critical situation.

This wing of the German army was being heavily attacked near Warsaw by Siberian rifleman and other Russian troops. Mackensen had only five divisions to hold fourteen Russian divisions which were trying to smash the flank and envelop the German army. All other available German troops were suddenly battling to prevent Russian troops from crossing the Vistula to the southeast of Warsaw.

This question of reinforcements was closely affected by events on the San. If progress were made there, we could stand a few setbacks near Warsaw; if not, we would be crushed there.

The arrival of reinforcements would save the situation for a while; but reinforcements were not to be obtained from General Headquarters, for they had sent the newly-formed corps to Ypres and the 15th Reserve Corps to East Prussia, where the situation had become more serious.

The Army Command proposed that the Guard Reserve, the Landwehr and the 11th Army Corps, defending the line of the Vistula, should be relieved by Austrian troops and brought up north, or, better still, that Austrian troops should be employed to relieve our left wing, in which case the German troops, which were now familiar with the Vistula sector, could stay there, thus guaranteeing the safety of the Vistula line. Besides, these relief operations would take up precious time, and the situation permitted no delay.

DEATH TOLL IN AERIAL DERBY SEVEN: "FLYING PARSON" SMASHING RECORDS

ST. PAUL, NEB., Oct. 16.—Lieutenant Maynard arrived here at 10:17.

SIDNEY, NEB., Oct. 16.—Lieutenant B. W. Maynard, the "Flying Parson" leader in the army transcontinental air derby, resumed his eastward flight from the control station here at 1:15 a. m. (mountain time) today.

Snow was falling when Lieutenant Maynard "hopped off." His time from Cheyenne, Wyoming, to Sidney, reported last night at 33 minutes, today was placed at 40 minutes by the official starter at the Sidney air station.

The distance from Cheyenne to Sidney is 50 miles.

NORTH PLATTE, NEB., Oct. 16.—Lieutenant B. W. Maynard arrived here about 9 a. m. (Central Time).

CHICAGO, Oct. 16.—Almost half way across the country on his return journey in the army airplane reliability and endurance race, Lieutenant B. W. Maynard, the "Flying Parson" today was well in the lead of the four other homeward bound fliers who had doubled back after starting from coast to coast. Lieutenant Maynard, having reached Sidney, Nebraska, was attempting a day's flight in the van of his nearest pursuer from San Francisco, and his closest opponent in the point of actual flying time for the transcontinental flight, Captain Lowell H. Smith, temporarily was out of the contest as his ship was damaged by fire last night shortly after he landed at the Buffalo control station. His claims for premier honors in the first half of the two-transcontinental race disappeared by Captain Smith's regarding actual flying time for the journey. Lieutenant Maynard apparently was intent on being returned undisputed winner as he was in the Minneapolis-Toronto race, for yesterday he broke all records for flights from San Francisco to Sidney, Neb., his aerialist step. He announced he expected to spend tonight at Chicago. Through snow storms yesterday Lieutenant Maynard made 126 miles in fifty-six minutes and then dashed an additional 81 miles through the skies in thirty-three minutes.

The death toll in the race today stood at seven, having thirty-nine pilots in the contest. Lieutenant French Kirby, pilot, and Lieutenant Stanley C. Miller, observer, were killed yesterday when their plane fell at Castle Rock, Utah.

Of those remaining in the race, six have completed half their trip by flying at the Minneapolis and nine have found their way to San Francisco. Twenty-four others are still on the first leg of their flight, scattered at various control stations across the country.

Just as Captain Smith's plane was found at a control field after he had landed for the night, those interested in the race hoped that the Washington authorities would permit him to take another ship and remain in the race.

Flying from the west, Lieutenant Alexander Pearson was Lieutenant Maynard's closest pursuer, followed by Captain J. O. Donaldson. From the east the "Flying Parson's" chief rival was Major Carl Sprue.

LEADER OUT OF IT

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 16.—Captain Lowell H. Smith, leader of the west-bound return flight in the transcontinental airplane race, is definitely out of the contest, and will return to his post by rail. It was stated today at air service headquarters here. His machine was destroyed accidentally by fire last night after he had made a safe landing at the Buffalo control station, but the "rolling mode" was that inasmuch as the flight was to test reliability of planes primarily, Captain Smith could not be permitted to continue his flight to San Francisco in another ship.

TO START ON FINAL LAP

SAN FRANCISCO, CAL., Oct. 16.—Three contestants in the army's transcontinental air race who have completed the flight from Minneapolis, New York, to San Francisco, were expected today to join the five who yesterday were on the final leg of their 5,000 mile flight. Those ready to leave before the day were Captain H. C. Drayton and Lieutenants E. M. Manzan and J. S. Webster.

Lieutenant Alexander Pearson, Jr., reached here yesterday on the first day of his return trip, while Captain J. O. Donaldson spent the night at Sacramento.

An official report by Colonel W. S. Hayes, commanding the federal troops here, presenting what was said to be documentary evidence of the connection of radical leaders with the steel strike in Gary and elsewhere, today was in the hands of Major Leonard Wood, commander of the central army department. General Wood declared Gary "is a hot bed of anarchy."

The evidence submitted in the report was said to be of a sensational nature. It also is said to contain proof of the alleged radical plot to capture the civil government of Gary and other steel cities in the strike area.

Anton Gorka, detained and questioned by the military authorities in connection with the bomb plot of last June, denied complicity in the conspiracy and also disclaimed information that Alex. Harnett, for whom the authorities are searching, had taken part in it.

GARY HOT BED OF ANARCHY

GARY, IND., Oct. 16.—Investigation of radical bomb and anti-government plots, continued today in Gary, where army intelligence officers and federal operatives already have uncovered a number of alleged plots and arrested a score or more agitators. Seven men taken in a series of raids Tuesday night are held on deportation warrants, it was stated today, and three others remain in custody.

Armed Men Turn Back Organizers In Coal Fields

HUNTINGTON, W. VA., Oct. 16.—The fifty union organizers who went into Logan county yesterday in an attempt to unite the miners of the Guyan Valley, and who claim they were forced to leave that region by several hundred "armed men," reported their case today to district headquarters of the United Mine Workers of America at Charleston. It is expected that the union officers will take steps immediately to secure complete details of the turning back of the organizers and when the facts before state officials with a request for an investigation.

Shortly before last midnight the fifty organizers who left here early Wednesday morning for Logan, W. Va., returned to Huntington and reported they had been stopped near Logan by armed men and that later an armored train with several hundred armed men and machine guns on board had followed their train back across the Logan county line to a point near this city. The organizers said the armed force was made up of company officials, county officers and miners. They denied assertions of Don Chaffin, Logan county clerk, that when searched by deputies at Logan, 25 pistols were found on members of the party.

Strikers in Steel and afterwards entered the office of the Steel and Iron Company, evidently for a conference with officials of the company. It was not divulged yesterday what companies had asked to meet the strike leaders. It was stated at strike headquarters, however, that it was hoped to get adjustments with the smaller companies and that this would bring influence upon the larger employers to grant conferences with the men. What result was obtained at yesterday's conference was not made public. It was expected that some statement would be made this morning.

That the agreement of the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel and Tin Workers to return to work in plants having an understanding with the association will have little effect on bringing about a return to normal conditions here was indicated yesterday, when it was found impossible to start the local mills of the Sharon Steel Iron Company. The striking laborers refused to report so that when the Amalgamated men went to the plant they were unable to work.

CONTINUE TO PREPARE FOR MINERS' STRIKE

INDIANAPOLIS, IND., Oct. 16.—Plans for a strike of bituminous coal miners of the country on November 1 were continued today at International headquarters of miners at American officials proceeding on the assumption that nothing would come of the conference in Washington called by Secretary of Labor Wilson in an effort to avert the threatened walkout. The official strike was sent out yesterday afternoon to the more than 4,000 local unions and plans for making the strike effective are taking form at headquarters.

Acting President Lewis left late yesterday afternoon for Washington in response to the request of Secretary Wilson for a conference.

Officials of the mine workers here were active in commenting on the possible outcome of the Washington meeting, but it was stated a night rest in another effort on the part of the operators and miners to get together. It was pointed out that should an agreement be reached before November 1, the agreement would not be a case of force until ratified by the full convention of the United Mine Workers.

Mine workers' officials here also admitted that should negotiations be resumed with possibility of final agreement, it was likely that the strike would be called off pending the final outcome, even though the deliberations extended beyond November 1.

AMERICANIZATION OF FOREIGNERS W. C. T. U. PLAN

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 15—Americanization of foreigners is the objective of the new campaign to be launched by the W. C. T. U. now that the liquor traffic has been disposed of. Mrs. Florence D. Trichard, president of the Ohio W. C. T. U., announced today in her annual address before the state convention.

"The advent of national prohibition does not mean that the work of the W. C. T. U. is finished nor that it will cease to take an active part in every national, state, county and home question, which arises in the future," she said.

"Immediate attention should now be centered with just as much energy on the Americanization of the foreigners in this country."

Mrs. Trichard said that 32,000,000 persons, or 25 percent of our population is of foreign born parentage and that these millions of aliens must be helped to become good citizens.

"Unless we do this, our prohibition laws and other moral measures will be in danger," she added.

Vulcan Last Company To Erect Big Branch Plant In The East

Portsmouth's large manufacturing plants are continuing to grow and expand, an important announcement along this line being made today when the Vulcan Last Company gave out details for a large branch last factory to be built at Johnson City, near Hampton N. Y., the new plant to represent an outlay of $200,000. Active work on the plant will start this month.

All details of the plans for the new factory follow the acquiring of a large tract of timber land in the vicinity of Johnson City which is one of the cities built and developed by the Endicott-Johnson Company one of the world's largest manufacturers of shoes. Increased business demanded that a new plant be built, the local plant being unable to take care of the big business increase they have been enjoying in the last few years. The Endicott-Johnson Company is one of the largest users of the Vulcan Last Company's product and to meet their demands it was decided to erect the new plant at Johnson City.

The branch plant is to be completed by April 1 and is to give employment to 200 hands at the start. The plans call for 50,000 feet of floor space. The building is to be a brick structure 500 feet by 60 feet. There will be a power plant and adjoining drying kilns. The plant is designed for easy convenience improved by experience learned at the local plant in the West End. The plans were prepared in the local firm's office and were then enlarged upon by architects DeVos and Donaldson.

The work will at first be carried on under someone from the local management until a suitable superintendent is secured and placed in charge.

"The Vulcan Last Company is known as one of the city's most active concerns. It was organized and placed in operation in 1912. With the New York plant in operation, the firm will have three separate plants. Several months ago a plant was started at Cranston, Wis., where raw material is secured and shipped here to supply the local plant. The new plant at Johnson City will manufacture lasts only, while the local industry is busy turning out lasts and wood heels.

Captain Adam Bach is president. W. L. Quastel, secretary and W. J. Burke, general manager of the local plant.

The world's standard remedy for kidney, liver, bladder and uric acid troubles—the National Remedy of Holland since 1895. Guaranteed. Three sizes, all druggists. Look for the name Gold Medal on every box and accept no imitations.

The trial of Harry Vastine, McDevitt man, before Judge Stephenson and a jury in common pleas court yesterday afternoon on a charge of non-support of his three minor children, was suddenly terminated when Prosecutor Sheppard moved the court to direct a verdict of acquittal.

The action of the prosecutor resulted from a physical examination of the accused by Dr. Charles Wendelken, which disclosed that Vastine was suffering from tuberculosis and was far from being a well man and supported the claim of the defense that he was not able by reason of his personal services, labor or earnings, to support the children.

Prosecutor Sheppard in presenting his motion to discharge the defendant, stated that he was as much interested in shielding the innocent as punishing the guilty and his attitude was commended by Judge Stephenson. Vastine was defended by Attorney T. C. Bentley.

SOLDIER BANQUET FRIDAY NIGHT

Members of Riglow Church are especially anxious that all soldier boys of the congregation and their wives, if married, or their mothers, if they are not married, to attend the banquet and entertainment at the church Friday evening. If the soldiers are out of town, or can not attend for any reason, the wife, or mother, are wanted just as much and are urged to attend. The committee also has found it impossible to reach several of the soldiers and their relatives, and want to announce that no special invitation is necessary, but all are asked to come. The only reason a special invitation is not extended is that the addresses are unknown. The soldiers are asked to come in uniform. It has been arranged to start the banquet at 6:30, so as to give all time to get there after working hours. The entertainment, to which all members of the congregation are invited, will start in the church auditorium at 7:30.

He Quit Cigarettes

A wonderful relief from the cry to cigarettes is reported by Chas. Oberberger, who had been addicted 11 years, and after trying various "cures" in vain, finally quit the habit. He writes: "I was a heavy smoker, and my health was suffering. I tried many things, but nothing helped. Then I read about 'The Life' and decided to try it. After a few days, I felt a great relief. My health improved, and I was able to quit smoking. I am now a happy, healthy man." The "Life" is a small, handy book, and is sold everywhere. It is a great help to anyone who is struggling with the habit. It is a great relief from the cry to cigarettes. It is a great relief from the cry to cigarettes. It is a great relief from the cry to cigarettes.

Manly Lecture Course Opens Next Monday

Tickets for the Manly Church lecture course, which opens on next Monday evening with one of the strongest numbers furnished by the Reddick Lyceum Bureau, namely, the Lotus company, are selling rapidly and it now seems almost that the affair will be a success from a financial point of view. The tickets are extremely modest in price, $1.25 for adults and 50 cents for children. Single admissions adults 20 cents and children 15 cents. The opening number next Monday will no doubt be greeted with a full house. It is said to be one of the strongest numbers. An expert harpist will accompany a soloist, who will sing character songs. Her chief number will be a descriptive selection depicting historical facts concerning Japan, France and America. The fact that the lecture course is played by the Reddick Lyceum Bureau is proof positive of its high character. Those desiring tickets can be accommodated by calling on any member of the church.

Children's Coughs

meeting his obligations and bearing responsibilities he would shift his burden to someone else.

Dear Miss Wise—I am eighteen and have no home my parents being dead. A friend whom I work has asked me to marry him. He is a divorced man, very gentlemanly and I think a lot of him. Am I too young to marry? He is thirty, I am 18, and of factory work. It is different with girls who have homes, but I just have a living room and it is not a bit pleasant.

I am not beautiful, but considered pretty and I have a lot of friends, both boys and girls. I am not a flirt, but I am a bit of a flirt.

I am sure I love him but can't feel that I can live with him. I feel that I am somewhere that that is the truest test of love. Will you please tell me if that is true and if it is, I want to marry a divorced man. I haven't even a sister I can ask for advice.

LYDIA.

You are very young to marry, but as you say it is different with girls, just as it is with boys, and some are to love who will have you. Do not take this step unless you are sure of the man's character and habits. The fact that he has been divorced shows that he did not make one woman happy and suggests the possibility that he would not prove the same to you.

Some men marry at sixteen and are very happy. This would be your case if the man is of good character and you love him for each other is shared. You are not a flirt, you are a girl, however. Do not take this step unless you are sure of the man's character and habits. The fact that he has been divorced shows that he did not make one woman happy and suggests the possibility that he would not prove the same to you.

Dear Miss Wise—I am 20 and I am very happy. This would be your case if the man is of good character and you love him for each other is shared. You are not a flirt, you are a girl, however. Dear Miss Wise—I am 20 and I am very happy. This would be your case if the man is of good character and you love him for each other is shared. You are not a flirt, you are a girl, however. Do not take this step unless you are sure of the man's character and habits. The fact that he has been divorced shows that he did not make one woman happy and suggests the possibility that he would not prove the same to you.

MISS DOLLY WISE

She is here to answer any and all questions concerning love, matrimony, troubles, woes, etiquette, etc. Inquiries should be addressed to Miss Dolly Wise, care The Daily Times, Portsmouth, Ohio.

Dear Miss Wise—I am a single 50 year old man that has come never to be forgotten. I have met and flirted with many women and girls, but I have met only one that I could love and cherish as my wife and she is a married woman with a family.

I feel as though I cannot live with her. She knows of my love for her and she says she loves me, but she feels she must be true to her marriage vows, although her husband has treated her shamefully and neglected her in every way a man can.

She works and clothes herself and children and he does not provide any well for her. She says she does not care for him and shows it in her actions, but is unable to leave him on account of lack of money. She is an honest and hardworking woman.

I have gone away and stayed two years and tried to forget her, but she is still in my mind. She does not want to leave her, but I cannot help it. She says when her children are old enough to care for themselves she will free herself.

I would not like to see her, but I have her more than life and I would like to see her. I would like to see her, but I have her more than life and I would like to see her. I would like to see her, but I have her more than life and I would like to see her.

I would like to see her, but I have her more than life and I would like to see her. I would like to see her, but I have her more than life and I would like to see her. I would like to see her, but I have her more than life and I would like to see her.

I would like to see her, but I have her more than life and I would like to see her. I would like to see her, but I have her more than life and I would like to see her. I would like to see her, but I have her more than life and I would like to see her.

I would like to see her, but I have her more than life and I would like to see her. I would like to see her, but I have her more than life and I would like to see her. I would like to see her, but I have her more than life and I would like to see her.

I would like to see her, but I have her more than life and I would like to see her. I would like to see her, but I have her more than life and I would like to see her. I would like to see her, but I have her more than life and I would like to see her.

I would like to see her, but I have her more than life and I would like to see her. I would like to see her, but I have her more than life and I would like to see her. I would like to see her, but I have her more than life and I would like to see her.

I would like to see her, but I have her more than life and I would like to see her. I would like to see her, but I have her more than life and I would like to see her. I would like to see her, but I have her more than life and I would like to see her.

I would like to see her, but I have her more than life and I would like to see her. I would like to see her, but I have her more than life and I would like to see her. I would like to see her, but I have her more than life and I would like to see her.

I would like to see her, but I have her more than life and I would like to see her. I would like to see her, but I have her more than life and I would like to see her. I would like to see her, but I have her more than life and I would like to see her.

I would like to see her, but I have her more than life and I would like to see her. I would like to see her, but I have her more than life and I would like to see her. I would like to see her, but I have her more than life and I would like to see her.

I would like to see her, but I have her more than life and I would like to see her. I would like to see her, but I have her more than life and I would like to see her. I would like to see her, but I have her more than life and I would like to see her.

I would like to see her, but I have her more than life and I would like to see her. I would like to see her, but I have her more than life and I would like to see her. I would like to see her, but I have her more than life and I would like to see her.

REGISTER FRIDAY AND SATURDAY

Friday and Saturday, Oct. 17 and 18, should be kept in mind by every voter as it will be the last chance to register before election day, November 1. Every voter should not fail to register if he did not register in the August Primary.

A voter moving since Primary day should also register on either of these two days.

The Board of Elections has announced the hours of registering, the polls opening at eight in the morning and closing at four in the afternoon, opening again at four o'clock in the afternoon and closing at eight in the evening. Electors who move after these two days and before the day before election will be able to get transfers from one precinct or from one ward to another the afternoon before election. A special meeting of the Election Board is held the day previous to election in order to grant such needed transfers but no one will be allowed to register at this late meeting.

The request of Chris. Malavans, through attorney R. E. Kline, for permission to erect a small building on the sidewalk on the Fifth street side of the Robertson building or to put in a sidewalk to the basement was refused after considerable discussion.

Judge N. B. Gilliland asked for permission to tap storm sewers to drain with waste water from the laundry, in a new house he is building at Hutchins and Chillicothe Ave., because it is impracticable to tap the sanitary sewer. He was told to carry his petition to the board of health.

Plumbing Station. Included in the legislation passed was an ordinance appropriating $1,500 to repair and improve the Fifth street plumbing station; another for $1,750 to pay court costs due Scioto county and a third for $30.75 to pay for installing plumbing in house of Superintendent of Greenlawn cemetery. A resolution was adopted awarding the board of $12,000 to the Fifth ward National Bank, of Cincinnati, on the bid of $10,000 premium.

By a vote of 5 to 3 the ordinance creating the position as bookkeeper at the hospital at a salary of $720 a year, passed on its third reading. Members Walters and Westphal casting the negative votes.

The claim of Frank R. Thompson to be reimbursed in the sum of $70 for auto fire which he says was damaged when he ran over a broken machine cover on Grant street, was referred to the public committee.

Legislation was ordered for the construction of a sewer in the vicinity of Twenty-first street and Grant street to cost $2,400 and another for $2,400 to pay for water works for the water mains on Chillicothe Pike.

When estimates started to come in from all sides for the repair of street sewers a motion was passed directing that a survey of all street sewers which do not drain properly be made and the matter referred to the engineer and service department. It was pointed out that much of the trouble resulted from the sewers being clogged by leaves.

SCORING MACHINE AT OHIO STATE SLIPS INTO HIGHER GEAR; KENTUCKY STATE NEXT VICTIM

COLUMBUS, O., October 16.—Shifted into high gear with the Ohio State team and Cincinnati going now a score of history Ohio State's 1919 season, which commenced this week in preparation for the important games which are fast approaching. Kentucky state, which succumbed before Indiana's attack Saturday, and which a year ago set back the Hoosiers with a defeat, appears here this week end in the final home game until November 15.

The Kentuckians over their place on the Ohio State schedule to the playing they made against Indiana last fall and despite the reverse of last week at the hands of Junior Stubbins, down the Ohio State coaches are looking on a good battle here Saturday. Scouts for the Blue Grass eleven are set in on the muddy contest here with Cincinnati didn't get much of a look at the Buckeyes.

While Dr. Wiley, adhering to his usual custom of silence, is loath to say a word of the Scarlet and Gray team's chances for the Big Ten hunting, followers of the local eleven feel certain that the squad has the makings of the most powerful Ohio State team in its history. Carrying injury and other misfortune the melee at Ann Arbor a week from Saturday when the Ohioans made their initial bow at Perry field in 1918 years, should be a great battle.

Already the Buckeyes are singing the praises of the varsity backfield. The Strickland-Harley-Williams combination looks pretty sweet here. All three are fast. Strickland and the red-headed Harley probably as speedy as anything wearing the scarlet shoe in Big Ten circles. Williams' looking to the Cincinnati game was good to look upon. The Safety had plunged through the visitors' line almost at will making 35 yards on his first attempt.

A strenuous fight is being waged by backfield candidates to land the permanent berth at left half. Strickland, formerly running back to Captain Harley, has been slotted to the pivot position since his brilliant performance in that capacity for the Cleveland Naval Reserves last fall.

Harley, first Ohio State to make an American, showed again that he is the same "Chib" of pre-war days. He scattered against Ohio Wesleyan. Four for two touchdowns and two field goals Cincinnati had him bound and foot Saturday.

VARGA TO MEET FOX HERE TUESDAY

Champion of the world at 175 pounds.

That is the title claimed by Charles E. Fox, the Cleveland wrestler, who has defeated the best men in the country at that weight, and who meets Joe Varga here next Tuesday night.

Fox is jealous of his professional standing and as soon as he was informed that Varga was also claiming the title he learned up the wires getting a challenge here to him, and would not be satisfied until both Williams and Varga had agreed that the winner of their match would meet him. For the past two years Fox has been going ahead in the wrestling game and contenders for the championship have come down before him almost as fast as they appeared.

In Varga the champion will meet a man who has qualified for the title on several occasions and who has won his way to the top of the wrestling ladder in the past few years. Those who saw the match with Williams and Varga had agreed that the winner of their match would meet him. the first fifteen minutes as to who would win, the local man showing more action than in any of his previous matches and also showing the result of his recent hard training which has put him into fine condition.

Should Varga defeat Fox he will be the title holder and will then have to defend the belt against all challengers. Next Tuesday night will decide whether or not Portsmouth will be the home of a champion in the fascinating game of catch or catch can wrestling.

What is expected to be a battle of wits and skill, class and luck is scheduled for tomorrow evening when the Rickman and Dawson's grapple at the Play House. Let every man be on the job. The scores of last night follow:

"Keystones" Lose 3 In Row To Those Chesty "Slickers"

DUCK PIN LEAGUE

Team Standing

CLUB	P	W	L	T	Pts.
Slickers	3	3	0	0	100
Winifreds	3	2	1	0	67
Borlocks	3	1	2	0	33
Keystones	3	0	3	0	0

Schedule

Keystones vs. Dawsons Oct. 16th.

Mr. Marple, anchor man for the Slickers, proved to be a thorn in the flesh for the Keystones at the Play House alley, last night, and was instrumental in winning the latter three in a row and are as a result leading the Play House Duck Pin league with a perfect percentage. Marple, who is regarded as one of the best stars of the local ten pin world, slammed into the Keystones with his customary for a total of 425 and is off to a good start for the premier honors of the championship. He was opposed by John Wilhelm, who shot an anchor man for the Keystones and who upheld his reputation, gathering 321 in his three efforts. The factor of the matter is that had all the Keystones been in line they would have given the Slickers a run for their money. Captain "Doc" Baughman of the Keystones has issued a search and seizure warrant for his men and he declares they will be thrown behind the bars if they fail him again. He was unable to play, but he occupied a very prominent place on the bench and did his best in a verbal way to encourage his men to greater endeavor. Three things on his team made his first two successful for such a determined attack as he did so Belomater would shoot and pocket from "145" scores.

Jockeys Hurt

LATONIA, KY., Oct. 16.—Two jockeys, Earl Pool of Norwood and Harry Dunford of Latonia, were injured during the first race at Latonia Wednesday afternoon, during a spectacular accident that thousands of people at the track saw. Both were hurled over the fence, and in the mix-up, jockey Pitt also was unhurt when his mount, Sandy Lad, fell.

Pool, ridden by Dunford, swerved into the fence, unseating Dunford and throwing him over the railing. A. N. Aiken crashed into Pool as the horse fell and threw Pool over the fence also.

Pool and Dunford, unconscious, were carried on stretchers to the emergency hospital, and an examination by physicians revealed no bones were broken.

To Discuss New Plays

Every player of the N. & W. team should be at the practice field tonight at 7:45 o'clock. The field may be too wet for practice, but the coach will have a drill in stunts, signal practice, and a discussion of several new plays.

The N. & W. team will play Camp Sherman's crack gridiron eleven here Saturday afternoon, the battle to be staged on the Second street gridiron. The field will be in fine condition for Saturday should the rain stop today.

Be Frank Favorite

LATONIA, KY., Oct. 16.—Now that Be Frank's real condition has been revealed, C. M. Garrison's Latonia Derby winner will most likely go to the post an overwhelming favorite for the Latonia Cup race, at two miles and a quarter, the closing feature next Saturday.

He won the fourth race at Latonia Tuesday with such ease that horse men said he might have taken the measure of Sam Hildreth's Mid-Hatter in the Latonia Championship States last Saturday had he been eligible.

Chillicothe Has Eleven

Chillicothe's plans for a representative football team, are moving along the R. of C. team. H. E. Curry, ex-high school star, and Earl Jones, an ex-high school player at Columbus, are on the C. & C. team which will probably be brought here to tackle the game of football from A to Z, is coach-N. and W. team.

Resides In California

Pitcher Walter Ruchter will be the last Red to leave Louisville and depart for his home in the Golden State. He has not signed his 1920 contract, but says he will upon receipt of it, as he feels confident that the club owners will give him a substantial increase in salary.

His remarks struck home. "Dell" was unable to get into the 100 strikes at once he approached the line quite closely in his second and third game and believes the time will come when he will go across with colors flying. Lawrence Nemesler, head off man for the Keystones, caught the ball and in that record accomplished all Captain Baughman asked of him. And it is worth something these days to do your work when you are not on the field.

Should Varga defeat Fox he will be the title holder and will then have to defend the belt against all challengers. Next Tuesday night will decide whether or not Portsmouth will be the home of a champion in the fascinating game of catch or catch can wrestling.

What is expected to be a battle of wits and skill, class and luck is scheduled for tomorrow evening when the Rickman and Dawson's grapple at the Play House. Let every man be on the job. The scores of last night follow:

Chad Horr's Norwoods Hand Electrics 2 To 1 Trimming

Chad Chadwick Horr's Norwoods, picked as one of the real sensations of the Masonic Bowling League, copied two out of three from The Electrics at the Play House last evening, before a rather intelligent but critical lobby of fans. No records were smashed—none even approached, but Captain Horr stated that so long as his men up two out of three he does not care whether records are shattered. Not a man on either team shot as well as 200, and it must be admitted that it is going to take several seasons before the boys warm up sufficiently to scare away the electrics and argue. Harry Jefferson, anchor man for the Electrics, was the last bowler to bowl, and he was a very prosperous season. He shot 224 and that is going some for "Chad." Fred Fride crossed the Redwood in the last game, getting 169 and was as happy as though twenty-five cash orders came in from the White House.

Moran Gets Bonus

CINCINNATI, O., Oct. 16.—The Cincinnati Baseball Club today presented Manager Paul Moran with a check for $5,000 as a bonus for winning the National League pennant.

The club also gave money to Leubach, Hank Schreiber and Outfielder Charlie See, recruits, in addition to the small amounts they received in the distribution of the Red's share of the world's series receipts.

No Increase For Umpires

World's series umpires are not likely to be granted their request for 100 percent increase in salaries, in spite of nearly 70 percent increase in the length of the contest this year.

President Johnson, of the American League yesterday approved the views of Chairman Hermann and President Heydler, of the National League, who other members of the national committee, who opposed boosting the umpires' reward from $10,000 to $20,000. The umpires receive in addition to the $10,000 salary an expense allowance of $250 each for "incidentals" and their railroad transportation and Pullman berths are paid for by the commission, making their total cost considerably more than $5,000 in total.

Want Excursion To Ann Arbor

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 16.—Only State University students and alumni are going to the Ann Arbor game with the University of Michigan, or know the reason why. Finding that the United States Railroad Administration has been inclined against excursions, a committee, headed by Senator E. C. Lloyd, of Franklin county, took the matter up with Governor James M. Cox today. The governor joined them in a telegram to Walker D. Hines, Federal Railway Administrator. The U. S. R. R. men point that excursions have been granted in other parts of the country.

Ironton Hi At Charleston

IRONTON, Oct. 16.—Coach Brooks of the I. H. S. football eleven will leave Friday afternoon with sixteen men for Charleston, W. Va., where the team will stack up against the strong West Virginia eleven. This will be Ironton's hardest game of the season on foreign ground as Charleston have quite a first team and have been defeating everything that has come their way this season.

James Munn, of the Reds, is packing his trunk preparatory to his departure for Pittsburgh, Mass., where he will spend a few weeks at his old home. It will have Thursday noon. Pat has been unable to get a suitable flat in Cincinnati and will keep his furniture in storage until he returns. Mrs. Moran is visiting her parents in Chicago, where Moran spent many years as a member of the Chicago Cubs.

What about training plans for next season? That was asked last evening. Is it true that you do not want to make a change because Wanda has proved a lucky spot for the Reds? "No, that is not the case," said Moran. "We have not agreed to go back to Texas nor have we selected any other spot. St. Petersburg, Fla., has made us a proposition and I understand that the conditions down there are ideal. Miami, Fla., also wants us and I dare say half a dozen other places will make a bid to house us during the spring. Training season is a world's champion team is always a big attraction."

FOR KIND WORDS, THANKS

HERE is to be no re-appearance of the influenza epidemic, this winter. Such is the blessed assurance given by the convention of army surgeons, holding at St. Louis. The reason offered for the assurance rather shocks the sensibilities and rocks all these fine sanitary principles so assiduously cultivated for a brief spell back, but there'll be no disposition, in the knowledge of what we are to escape, to quarrel with it. This reason is that foul air is a safeguard against the disease. Colonel Surgeon Victor C. Vaughn, speaking the common opinion of his colleagues, said the fouler the atmosphere, and the more bacteria one breathed the more immune he would be. This was proven by the statistics, compiled during the war, which showed the greatest death rate from the epidemic was among men from the country districts. The city man is accustomed to filthy air, while the country bred is not, consequently a foul atmosphere will affect the latter sooner than the former. Therefore and wherefore all that will be necessary for the city fellow to make himself doubly immune is to go out and stand in the stenchful alley for fifteen minutes each day, while the countryman can do quite as well by visiting frequently the aromatic stable.

Speaking altogether seriously it does seem that there is some point in the position of the army surgeons. Perusal of the mortality reports of insurance companies shows that the influenza was especially violent in small communities and in many the death rate was appalling. Perhaps, this was not altogether a matter in the difference of the atmosphere, but is in part accountable for in the fact that country communities being remote from doctors do not summon medical aid as readily and quickly as do the residents of towns and cities.

EASTWARD THE STAR MOVES

THE purchase by the Masonic bodies of the Baronets, upon Gallia street, marks a distinct milestone in the progress of Portsmouth eastward.

Many years ago the Masons erected a building at Third and Washington. It does not seem more than a few since they occupied their present home at Fourth and Chillicothe, moving eastward and a block north. When the present temple was completed it was regarded as a distinct feature in marking the growth of the order and the city as well. It was thought it would at least be sufficient for the needs of the order for generations to come.

However, both it and the city were then but justifying under way. Such has been the unanticipated increase in membership that the building is inadequate to the use to which it is put, so a new site for a new temple has been chosen several blocks further east and again a bit north. The city has already extended in the same direction. The site is a fine one in proportion and especially admirable in that the thoroughfare on which it is located has a traffic quite equal to that of Chillicothe and rapidly expanding, so that such a structure as the Masons will erect can have full effect as a notable exposition of the city's importance.

RUNS ALL ONE WAY

THE news from Russia is distinctly encouraging, indicating that the dreadful riot of Bolshevism is on the wane. General Denikin is moving rapidly towards Moscow and winning many a big engagement. General Koleschak has successfully resumed the offensive in Siberia. General Kopylov is moving steadily on to Petrograd and the Poles are hammering the Reds to pieces down below Riga.

It may be that the Allies were altogether right when they determined the better policy was to let Russia work out her own troubles. A people who work out their own redemption are stronger for that. That much is certain and the poor and unfortunate Russians stand in need of the lesson that the rule of Monarchs and scoundrels is as hateful as that of autocratic kings and Czars, that between them lies the happy means of order, security and peace.

IT JOGGED HIS MEMORY

WHEN a youth was before police court on a charge of being drunk and disorderly no amount of questioning could awaken his recollection as to where he got the liquor. However, when Mayor Kaps slapped a stiff fine on him he suddenly remembered.

The seller was promptly brought into court and he got a dose that will hold him for a time.

That's setting out in the right course in good style. These bootleggers are not alone violating the law. They are robbing the unfortunate and the reckless, selling them stuff that beams their brains and threatens serious hurt to the whole constitution.

THE END IS A CERTAINTY

As told to the public, the news from Gary, Indiana, indicates that the headquarters of the anarchist gang, that distributed bombs over the country, last May, through the agency of the mails, has been located and some of the villains are under arrest.

It is to be hoped the news is true, but whether so or not, this much is certain, the gang will be eventually run down. It may take weeks and weeks, or months and months, but whenever the secret service of the United States starts after a gang of plotters it gets them. It is after the bombing and murderous anarchists.

None are immune against the attack of Old Higher Rent. At Columbus the state was threatened with eviction from its offices in the Stoneham building if it did not come across with a raise of $3,000. It came across, all right, but if landlords would put up rents so high that half the departments couldn't find anywhere to operate the state would be a gainer at that.

Doesn't fate mock. But a little while ago Rodman Law was astounding the nation with his physical feats, among them making a record plane flight from Chicago to New York, leaping with a parachute from 5,000 feet in the air, jumping from the Statue of Liberty and the highest building in the world and being fired from a cannon. He died, this week, of consumption, a disease of the weak ordinarily.

THE MARRIED AN AVERAGE MAN

It is just midnight. I have stolen from our room to work out some of my spiritual thrills in this little book of mine. Christmas Eve! If I were a better man in the night I should think about sorts of mercantile ventures in the air tonight. I feel electric currents coursing through my body and my soul. I am beside myself with the joy of going to New York. We have day after tomorrow. I am standing at one of life's corners. Presently I shall turn round it into a new road, full of unknown possibilities, adventures, troubles, perhaps, but certainly experiences that will enrich our whole existence.

Jim has been dreading itself for the last few days. He has not been sufficiently to take the time to his confidence regarding our income and has voluntarily accepted me a regular allowance.

He and Helton, it seems, are equal partners in their engineering and contracting business, each to have a regular account of $50 per week to begin with. That seems a heap of money to me! I am to have $25 to run the house on and buy my personal things. He is to have the check for the rent—and I shall see to it that we do not pay more than $12 a month for our apartment. The only day in my stomach is the unmistakable fact that I owe this whole arrangement to Charles Helton. If it had not been for that discussion at dinner the other night Jim would never have granted my prayer to know our exact income and have a regular allowance.

It puzzles me that Helton has so much influence over Jim. The man is and always has been repugnant to me. And now I am actually under obligation to him!

He even called my attention to it in a veiled way, saying, "You see, lovely lady, that the lion can be tamed—though it may take an omelette to do it."

However, I shall not make myself unhappy. He may be as fine a man as Jim thinks him. I cannot sleep tonight thinking of how life is opening before me! New York!!! I love merely to write the name, and sit and gloat over it as standing for my future home.

I shall not be absolutely without friends there, either. Mrs. West has promised to help me find a home. And there is my old schoolmate, Betty Sterling, who lives in Brooklyn, which, I understand, is just across the river from New York.

Oh, the thrills that course through me as I picture the great choice of activities in the huge metropolis! I have always dreamed of it!

Jim says I am not a woman of sentiment. But he is wrong. I could be read my heart tonight he would see sentiments there. Not the sort of sentiment that weeps over the mere fact of leaving my home (which I love well but which I somehow never felt rooted in). But the sentiment that rejoices in meeting the unknown. Centerville is so completely the known, I should know exactly how our lives would unfold, bloom and finally end.

In that vast metropolis of human effort—New York—who knows what joys our rubbing elbows: our fellow workers may strike from us? I am eager for it!

New - York - Day - By - Day

BY O. O. MCINTYRE

NEW YORK, Oct. 16.—There is a sardonic cackle or so in the humor of doing the queerest jobs. I always found the errand girl in Manhattan to be a thoroughly thing, while cred-chill of the sweet-home with a looking cough. After her day longing big packages to white-winged butlers. I imagined the specially large child picking her dinner out of a garbage pail or something.

You seek lived in a small town and believed everything in the Sunday papers and the five-cent novels. The other morning the most important member of my little household had on telephone to a dress-making establishment to have them speed up her pink tulle, or yellow satin or tulle or what ever it was.

And a voice, delightfully Parisian, answered that Madame Crode—they're always frocks or gowns and never a dress—was done and would be delivered in half an hour. I waited for the third child of the phone to come with it. When the door-bell rang about the snappiest girl that ever escaped Viegfeld was standing there with a package containing the dress.

She is the new type of errand girl. She was respectfully roughed and worn one of those zippy hats with a bow and there I stood like a flat-headed book with fifteen cents in my hand to tip her. The errand girls are on strike and so the dressmakers pay

WHO'S WHO IN THE DAY'S NEWS

HOMER L. FERGUSON
 Representing the Chamber of Commerce of the United States at the great industrial conference now in session in Washington is Homer L. Ferguson, president of that great organization of American business men. Ferguson is also president of the Newport News Shipbuilding and Dry Dock Company and is known as a broad-minded business man. He has under him 25,000 men. Like other employers attending the conference, he is an advocate of the open shop, holding the opinion "that is all employers have left." He is for arbitration in industrial disputes.

Ferguson owns no stock in the Newport News Shipbuilding Company, and thus represents a type of chief executive which is expected to become more frequent with industrial development. Having no ownership interest, he stands somewhat in a position between owners and workers, with a clearer appreciation of each viewpoint, and has been exceptionally successful in dealing with employees, union and non-union.

Mr. Ferguson is a graduate of the Naval Academy and was formerly a naval architect.

their designers and needwomen extra for delivering packages. As a result you see some of the best dressed women sitting about the town carrying packages to customers. And our messenger "boys!" You should see them. The all have gray beards and white hair. From my observation there is not a messenger boy in town under 60.

As I have said, there is nothing so funny as life. For two years I have been slaving and economizing to buy a certain gilt-edged security and I awakened this morning to read in the paper that an adolescent living down the hall, who never knew the pangs of lowest fall, has walked away with a fortune and will spend the rest of his life roughing it between Palm Beach and New York.

Horse haircut has suddenly grown into popular favor with the owners of disappointed run appetites over in the Cherry Hill district. The newspapers report that a "racket" over there the other night victims of as horse haircut—80 percent kick—were served and the victims were knocked off or than angry unbecomely. Among other things that are reported to have been used lately are hair tonic, extracts, rum whiskey and the lowly shoe polish.

The excited group of baseball fans were collected around the ticker at the Claridge the day that Babe Ruth made his twenty-eighth home run. Afterward they collected around a table and over the grapefruit discussed the feat. One man in the party showed such a lack of interest that Raymond Hitchcock questioned him about it. It was learned that the stranger was a Devonian professor of Icelandic languages and the fact that a man was able to eat a sphere of rubber so hard with a piece of wood that he could touch three bases ninety feet apart and get home before the ball was returned meant nothing in his young Teutonian life.

Prorogation

Does prorogation pay? Time and the event must say.

Fourteen years old William Smith, honest, frugal and "scholarly," treats Jenny Jones as with, With an eye to matrimony.

When he owned a house and lot Bill resolved no more to tarry. Shaved, lupulinsly hot, And asked Jenny Jones to marry.

Jenny smiled and said, "Oh! stuff! You are one day late, dear Billy. Last night I met Treason Buff. Married him this mornin', eh?"

Brokenhearted? Bill was not. With a manner-savvy and gentle, Replied Buff his leave and lot. At a most EXORBITANT rental!

Does prorogation pay? Time and the event must say.

(Editor's Note.—Did Prorogation pay? It did. That's what we say.)

Civilized Conditions

Crashdown—Hiding back in New York must be a great relief from the terrible strain of the war zone.

Corporal Jim—Quit see kidding! Since I came over I've been knocked down by a taxi, held up by a couple of tough coveys and charged a month's pay for a week's board—life.

Her Part

Two negro women were discussing the war, relates the Philadelphia Record.

"Well, honey," said Aunt Caroline, "I done give two sons to this here war."

"Lord, child! That ain't nothin'," replied Matilda. "I got three husbands over there now, and if this last one I got don't do better I'm gwine send him over soon."

The Other Side

Wife (looking up from newspaper)—It tells here about a man giving his wife a fifteen thousand dollar fur coat. Nothing like that ever happens to me.

High (looking up from his)—I was just reading where a man gave his wife a pair of black eyes for always complaining. Nothing like that ever happens to you, either.

Tars' Undignified Task

It Was Not Her Fault

A lady needed a little girl, so she was entering one of the fashion shows in New York city, where she knew the rules were exceedingly strict and after some little conversation said:

DEATH TOLL IN THE AERIAL DERBY 7; "FLYING PARSON" SMASHING RECORDS

THIRTY-NINE PILOTS LEFT IN BIG AIR RACE

SIDNEY, N.E., Oct. 16.—Lieutenant B. W. Maynard, the "Flying Parson" leader in the army transcontinental aerial derby, resumed his outward flight from the control station here at 7:15 a. m. (mountain time) today.

NORTH PLATTE, N.E., Oct. 16.—Lieutenant B. W. Maynard arrived here about 9 a. m. (Central Time).

CHICAGO, Oct. 16.—Almost half way across the country on his return today in the army airplane refueling and endurance race Lieutenant B. W. Maynard, the "Flying Parson" today was well in the lead of the four transcontinental fliers who had left Chicago after leaving from coast to coast. Lieutenant Maynard, having reached Sidney, Nebraska, had a day's flight in the van of his transcontinental race. Captain Lovell H. Smith, apparently was out of the race as his ship was damaged by fire shortly after he landed at the Buffalo central station. His claims for a prize in the first half of the transcontinental race disappeared. Captain Smith as regarding his flying time for the journey. Lieutenant Maynard apparently was on being returned undisputed as he was in the Minola-Toronto race, for yesterday, he broke all records for flights from San Francisco to Sidney, Neb., his overnight stop. He announced he expected to spend tonight at Chicago. Through snow storms yesterday Lieutenant Maynard made 126 miles in fifty-six minutes and then dashed an additional 33 miles through the skies in thirty-three minutes.

The death toll in the race today stood at seven, leaving thirty-nine pilots in the contest. Lieutenant French Kirby, pilot, and Lieutenant Stanley C. Miller, observer, were killed yesterday when their plane fell at Castle Rock, Utah.

Of those remaining in the race, six have completed half their trip by landing at the Minola field and nine west bound fliers have reached San Francisco. Twenty-four others are still on the first leg of their flight, scattered at various control stations across the country.

Inasmuch as Captain Smith's plane was damaged at a control field after he had landed for the night, those interested in the race hoped that the Washington authorities would permit him to take another ship and remain in the race.

Flying from the west, Lieutenant Alexander Pearson was Lieutenant Maynard's closest pursuer, followed by Captain J. O. Donaldson. From the east the "Flying Parson's" chief rival was Major Carl Spatz.

OPENING STOCKS

NEW YORK, Oct. 16.—Motors and their specialties together with oils were the foremost issues at the opening of today's stock market. Shipping and food shares also figuring in the irregular advance. Bethlehem Motors was the most conspicuous feature. Its initial transaction consisting of 10,000 shares at a gain of 2 1/4 points. Mexican Petroleum rose almost 3 points and Marine preferred and American International, each 1 and 1 1/2 points, respectively. Stocks and equipment, also rails, were variable at the outset, but the general list trended higher within the first half hour.

KILLED YOUTH FOR STEALING APPLES, CLAIMED

STEVENSVILLE, O., Oct. 16.—George Green, aged 22 years, prominent citizen of Effingham, Ohio, was placed under arrest today by Constable John Crawford, charged with first degree murder. He is accused of slaying twelve-year-old Wesley Selch recently when the boy with four companions invaded his apple orchard. The affidavit was filed by the boy's father. The accused was released on $2,500 bond. Mr. Green made no statement as to the charges. The body of the Selch boy was found in the orchard early yesterday morning. Citizens of the little town of Effingham were angered over the death of the boy.

It was announced tonight by the American delegation to the peace conference. There has been an indefinite postponement of this step, it was stated.

Armies Hammer The Bolsheviki On Four Fronts

LONDON, Oct. 16.—Forced back by the onslaughts of enemies on four fronts, the armies of the soviet government of Russia appear to be facing a period pregnant with disaster. General Derzhinski's Cossacks from the south, Polish forces from the west, northwestern Russian legions, on the northwest and northern Russian troops from the north, have during the last few days fanned out until it seems the Bolsheviki armies are between the upper and nether millstones.

Petrograd is doomed to capture, in the opinion of observers. General Yudenich being at Gatchina, only 25 miles south of the former Russian capital.

In the extreme north the northern Russian army has broken the resistance of the Bolsheviki, according to reports and are pursuing the enemy toward Olenok, a village about 120 miles west of Archangel. Further to the south it has forced its way, far down along the Dvina river. Polish forces have captured Ryma, on the extreme northern end of their line. The Bolsheviki men have driven a giant wedge into central Russia as far as they are thought to be on their way toward Tobolsk, an important railway center that is considered the key to Moscow. That of the Poles is Admiral Kolchak's army, but it is scarcely so far away to enter into consideration as a vital factor in the situation which is developing in Russia proper. General Derzhinski and Yudenich and Admiral Kolchak are said to be operating in close coordination.

West of General Derzhinski's army are forces of Ukrainians who, while supposed to be hostile to the Bolsheviki, have declared war on Derzhinski because of alleged atrocities perpetrated by the latter's soldiers in their advance toward Moscow. Reports have been received, however, that part of the Ukrainian army has joined Derzhinski, having been assured that the latter will treat eastern Galicia and the province of Volhynia and Poland.

Movements from Russia state that Colonel Avram Ponomarev, whose military attack on Baku last week caused a sensation, has declared he began his campaign only on the purpose of liberating the Dnieper river from German domination.

This front is between the extreme left by General Yudenich and the right by General Derzhinski. The National Hardware Manufacturers Association is in session here, but the postal administration was prevented from sending a telegram of sympathy and that the stand taken by the association is not a matter of official record on the part of the government.

Speaking of his policies and efforts made to obtain a reversal, the postmaster general declared:

"I have been made of what I stand for and the record is not going to be changed."

CONTINUE TO PREPARE FOR MINERS' STRIKE

INDIANAPOLIS, IND., Oct. 16.—Plans for a strike of bituminous coal miners of the country on November 1 were continued today at international headquarters of miners of America. The officials proceeding on the assumption that nothing would come of the conference in Washington called by Secretary of Labor Wilson in an effort to avert the threatened walk-out. The official strike was sent out yesterday afternoon to the more than 1,000 local unions and plans for making the strike effective are taking form at headquarters.

Acting President Lewis left late yesterday afternoon for Washington in response to the request of Secretary Wilson for a conference.

Officials of the mine workers here were adverse to commenting on the possible outcome of the Washington meeting, but it was stated it might result in another effort on the part of the operators and miners to get together. It was pointed out that should an agreement be reached before November 1, the agreement would not become effective until ratified by the full convention of the United Mine workers.

Mine workers' officials here also admitted that should negotiations be resumed with possibility of final agreement, it was likely that the strike would be called off pending the final outcome, even though the deliberations extended beyond November 1.

BURLESON TURNS ON HIS CRITICS

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Oct. 16.—Vigorously turning against his critics in the first public address he has delivered since entering the cabinet, Secretary General Burleson today told the National Hardware Manufacturers Association in session here, that the postal administration was determined to stand for the development, growth and maintenance of the postal service in the future.

Speaking of his policies and efforts made to obtain a reversal, the postmaster general declared:

"I have been made of what I stand for and the record is not going to be changed."

Union Men Barred From Coal Fields

HUNTINGTON, W. VA., Oct. 16.—The fifty union organizers who went into Logan county yesterday in an attempt to unionize coal miners of the Guyan Valley, and who claim they were forced to leave that region by several hundred "armed men," reported their case today to district headquarters of the United Mine Workers of America at Charleston. It is expected that the union officers will take steps immediately to secure complete details of the turning back of the organizers and place the facts before state officials with a request for an investigation.

Shortly before last midnight the fifty organizers who left here early Wednesday morning for Logan, W. Va., returned to Huntington and reported they had been stopped near Logan by armed men and that later an "armed train" with several hundred armed men and machine guns on board had followed their train back across the Logan county line in a point near this city. The organizers said the armed force was made up of company officials, county officers and miners. They denied accusations of Don Chaffin, Logan county clerk, that when searched by deputies at Logan, 26 pistols were found on members of the party.

COMPANIES WILL MEET STRIKE CHIEFS

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Oct. 16.—The eyes of union men in the Youngstown district were focused on strike leaders as the result of an announcement yesterday afternoon that arrangements had been made for a conference with representatives of two of the lesser steel plants in the valley.

Secretary J. E. McCaffrey and other strike leaders yesterday addressed a gathering in Steelville and afterwards entered the office of the Struthers Furnace Company, evidently for a conference with officials of the concern. It was not disclosed yesterday what companies had asked to meet the strike leaders. It was stated at strike headquarters, however, that it was hoped to get adjustments with the smaller companies and that this would bring influence upon the larger companies to grant conferences with them. What result was obtained at yesterday's conference was not made public. It was expected that some statement would be made this morning.

That the agreement of the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel and Tin Workers to return to work in plants having an understanding with the association will have little effect on bringing about a return to normal conditions here was indicated yesterday, when it was found impossible to start the blast mills of the Sharon Steel Heat Company. The striking laborers refused to report to work when the Amalgamated men went to the plant they were unable to work.

Whether the laborers can be prevailed upon to go to work in mills having agreements with the association here as they did in Warren, remains to be seen. No attempt was made to induce them to return yesterday.

AMERICANIZATION OF FOREIGNERS W. C. T. U. PLAN

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 16.—Americanization of foreigners is the objective of the new campaign to be launched by the W. C. T. U. now that the liquor traffic has been disposed of. Mrs. Florence H. Richard, president of the Ohio W. C. T. U., announced today in her annual address before the state convention.

"The advent of national prohibition does not mean that the work of the W. C. T. U. is finished nor that it will cease to take an active part in every national, state, county and town question which arises in the future," she said.

"Immediate attention should now be centered with just as much energy on the Americanization of the foreigners in this country."

Mrs. Richards said that 32,000,000 persons, or 25 percent of our population, had been born in foreign lands and that these millions of aliens must be helped to become good citizens.

"Unless we do this, our prohibition laws and other moral measures will be in danger," she added.

Mrs. Ella Friend of 1220 Twelfth street, is seriously ill.

SCORING MACHINE AT OHIO STATE SLIPS INTO HIGHER GEAR; KENTUCKY STATE NEXT VICTIM

COLUMBUS, O., October 16.—Shifting into high gear with the Ohio Western and Cincinnati games, now a matter of history Ohio State's 1919 football machine this week is putting in its hardest ticks of the season in preparation for the important games which are fast approaching. Kentucky State, which succumbed before Indiana's attack Saturday, and which a year ago set back the Hoosiers with a defeat, appears here this week and in the final home game until November 18.

The Kentuckians over their place on this fall's Ohio State schedule to the showing they made against Indiana last fall and despite the reverse of last week at the hands of Jacob Stille's eleven the Ohio State coaches are figuring on a good battle here Saturday. Scouts for the Blue Grass eleven, who sat in on the muddy contest here with Cincinnati didn't get much of a line on the Buckeyes.

While Dr. White, adhering to his usual custom of silence, is loath to say much of the Scarle and Gray team's chances for the Big Ten hunting, followers of the local eleven feel certain that the squad has the makings of the most powerful Ohio State team in history. Barring injury and other misfortunes the meter at Ann Arbor a week from Saturday when the Ohioans make their initial bow at Ferry Field in eight years, should be a great battle.

Already the Buckeyes are sizzling the praises of the varsity backfield. The Stinchcomb-Harley-Williams combination looks pretty sweet here. All three are fast. Stinchcomb and the redoubtable Harley probably as speedily as anything wearing the scarlet shoe in Big Ten circles. Williams' tuckling in the Cincinnati game was good to look upon. The Salen had plunged through the visitors' line almost at will, making 33 yards on his first attempt.

A strenuous fight is being waged by backfield candidates to land the permanent berth at left half. Stinchcomb, formerly running end to Captain Harley, has been slanted to the pivot position since his brilliant performance in that capacity for the Cleveland Naval Reserves last fall.

Harley, first Ohio State to make all-American, showed again that he is the same "Chick" of pre-war days. He scintillated against Ohio Western. Except for two touchdowns and two field goals Cincinnati had him bound and foot Saturday.

St. Paul Defeated

LOS ANGELES, CALIF., Oct. 16.—Touched hits in the first and second innings gave Vernon victory over St. Paul in the seventh game of the Western Minor League championship series yesterday. Score: St. Paul..... 2 8 1 Vernon..... 6 7 3 Batteries: Williams, Moritz, Hall and Hargrave; Hunk and Brooks.

Dundee Is Matched

NEW YORK, October 16.—Johnny Dundee, the Irish fighter, and Willie Jackson, one of the best local lightweights, are matched to meet in the main bout of ten rounds before the Cream City A. C. club, on the night of October 21. The boys have already come together several times and have put up exciting fights. Dundee was knocked out by Jackson in one of the bouts.

Jockeys Hurt

LATONIA, KY., Oct. 16.—Two jockeys, Earl Post of Norwood and Harry Lunford of Latonia, were injured during the first race at Latonia Wednesday afternoon, during a spectacular accident that thousands of people at the track saw. Both were buried under the fence, and in the mix-up jockey Pitz also was unhurt when his mount, Sandy Lad, fell.

Post, ridden by Lunford, swerved into the fence, upsetting Lunford and throwing him over the railing. A. N. Aiken crashed into Post as the horse fell and threw Post over the fence also. Post and Lunford, unconscious, were carried on stretchers to the emergency hospital, and an examination by physicians revealed no bones were broken.

To Discuss New Plays

Every player of the N. & W. team should be at the practice field tonight at 8:45 o'clock. The field may be too wet for practice, but the coach will have a drill in signals, signal practice only and a discussion of several new plays.

The N. & W. team will play Camp Sherman's crack gridiron eleven here Sunday afternoon, the battle to be staged on the Seventeenth street gridiron. The field will be in fine condition for Sunday should the rain stop today.

Be Frank Favorite

LATONIA, KY., Oct. 16.—Now that Be Frank's real condition has been revealed, C. M. Garrison's Latonia Derby winner will most likely go to the post an overwhelming favorite for the Latonia Cup race, at two miles and a quarter, the closing feature next Saturday.

He won the fourth race at Latonia Tuesday with such ease that horse men said he might have taken the measure of Sam Hildreth's Mad Hat in the Latonia Championship Stakes last Saturday had he been eligible.

Chillicothe Has Eleven

Chillicothe's plans for a representative football team are moving along nicely. The Chillicothe Athletic Club, having taken over the plans of the Independent Football team.

ing the U. A. C. team which plays Sunday afternoon in Chillicothe against the K. of C. team. H. E. Curry, ex-high school star, and Earl Jones, ex-high school player of Columbus, are on the U. A. C. team which will probably be brought here to tackle the game of football from A to Z, is coach N. and W. team.

Resides In California

Pitcher Walter Ruetter will be the last Red to leave Redville and depart for his home in the Golden State. He has not signed his 1920 contract, but says he will upon receipt of it, as he feels confident that the club owners will give him a substantial increase in salary.

his remarks struck home. "Red" was unable to get into the 100 stakes although he approached the five quite closely in his second and third game and believes the time will come when he can go across with colors. Flying Lawrence Henderson, lead off man for the Keystones, outlasted the blind and in that regard accomplished all Captain Baughman asked of him. And it is worth something these days to do your whole duty even if you do not kick up as much dust as some of the other fellows. Tinker, lead off man for the Slickers, was a bear cat for fair and looks to be in for a very prosperous season. He shot 224 and that is going some for "Tink." Fred Pride, crossed the Redden in the last game, getting 100 and was as happy as though twenty-five runs and orders came in from the White House.

What is expected to be a battle of wits and skill, class and luck is scheduled for tomorrow evening when the Rinkings and Dawsons grapple at the Play House. Let every man be on the job. The scores of last night follow: Slickers—Tinker..... 117 50 120 234 Pride..... 50 77 109 235 Delamater..... 87 95 91 270 Blind..... 85 85 85 255 Marple..... 112 121 150 329 Total..... 509 460 558 1578 Keystones—Henderson..... 56 79 82 217 Blind..... 85 85 85 255 Blind..... 88 85 255 Blind..... 128 108 144 371 Wilhelm..... 128 108 144 371 Total..... 455 442 472 1369

The Wife Tries To Prove Something

VARGA TO MEET FOX HERE TUESDAY

Champion of the world at 175 of the past two years Fox has been going ahead in the wrestling game and contenders for the championship have gone down before him almost as fast as they appeared.

In Varga the champion will meet a man who has qualified for the title on several occasions and who has worked his way to the top of the wrestling ladder in the past few years. Those who saw the match with Willis Tuesday night were never in doubt, as the first fifteen minutes as to who would win, the local man showing more action than in any of his previous matches and also showing the result of his recent hard training which has put him into fine condition.

Should Varga defeat Fox he will be the title holder and will then have to defend the belt against all challengers. Next Tuesday night will decide whether or not Portsmouth will be the home of a champion in the fascinating game of catch as catch can wrestling.

"Keystones" Lose 3 In Row To Those Chesty "Slickers"

instrumental in winning the latter three in a row and are as a result leading the Play House Dink Pin League with a perfect percentage. Marple, who is regarded as one of the real stars of the local ten pin world, slammed into the wood with his cue for a total of 124 and is off to a good start for the premier season of the classy little league. He was opposed by John Wilhelm, who shot as snappy a rep for the Keystones and who upheld his reputation gathering 241 in his three efforts. The fact of the matter is that had all the Keystones been in line they would have given the Slickers a run for their money. Captain "Doc" Baughman of the Keystones has tested a search and seizure warrant for his men and he declares they will be thrown behind the bars if they fail him again. He was unable to play, but he occupied a very prominent place on the bench and did his best in a verbal way to encourage his men to greater endeavor. Three hits on his team made his back of pulling the game out of the fire for the Slickers for such a determined attitude as he. He did so Delamater caught and judging from last night's scores.

No Increase For Umpires

World's series umpires are not likely to be granted their request for 100 percent increase in salaries, in spite of nearly 20 percent increase in the length of the contest this year.

Chadwick Horr's Norwoods, middle of the contest, when he shot for 112—a score that will be his night-mare for some time to come. CINCINNATI, O., Oct. 16.—Moritz, manager of the Reds, is packing 25 trunks preparatory to his departure for Philadelphia, Mass., where he will spend a few weeks at his old home. He will leave Thursday noon. He has been unable to get a substitute in Cincinnati and will keep his family in storage until he returns. Mr. Moran is visiting her parents in Texas, where Moran spent many years as a member of the Chicago Cubs.

What about training plans for next season? That was asked last week. Is it true that you do not want to make a change because Willie Macie proved a lucky spot for the Reds? No, that is not the case, said Moran. "We have not agreed to go back to Texas nor have we agreed any other spot. St. Petersburg, Fla., has made us a proposition and I have said that the conditions there are not ideal. Miami, Fla., also wants to make a change because Willie Macie proved a lucky spot for the Reds. We will make a bid to leave in the spring. Training season is the world's champion team is a very big attraction."

FOR KIND WORDS, THANKS

HERE is to be no reappearance of the influenza epidemic, this winter. Such is the blessed assurance given by the convention of army surgeons, holding at St. Louis. The reason offered for the assurance rather shocks the sensibilities and jocks all these fine sanitary principles so assiduously cultivated for a brief spell back, but there'll be no disposition, in the knowledge of what we are to escape, to quarrel with it. This reason is that foul air is a safeguard against the disease. Colonel Surgeon Victor C. Vaughan, speaking the common opinion of his colleagues, said the fouler the atmosphere and the more bacteria one breathed the more immune he would be. This was proven by the statistics compiled during the war, which showed the greatest death rate from the epidemic was among men from the country districts. The city man is accustomed to filthy air, while the country bred is not, consequently a foul atmosphere will affect the latter sooner than the former.

Therefore and wherefore all that will be necessary for the city fellow to make himself doubly immune is to go out and stand in the stenchful alley for fifteen minutes each day, while the countryman can do quite as well by visiting frequently the aromatic stable.

Speaking altogether seriously it does seem that there is some point in the position of the army surgeons. Perusal of the mortality reports of insurance companies shows that the influenza was especially virulent in small communities and in many the death rate was appalling. Perhaps, this was not altogether a matter in the difference of the atmosphere, but is in part accountable for in the fact that country communities being remote from doctors do not summon medical aid as readily and quickly as do the residents of towns and cities.

EASTWARD THE STAR MOVES

THE purchase by the Masonic bodies of the Baran lots, upon Gallia street, marks a distinct milestone in the progress of Portsmouth eastward.

Many years ago the Masons erected a building at Third and Washington. It does not seem more than a few since they occupied their present home at Fourth and Chillicothe, moving eastward and a block north. When the present temple was completed it was regarded as a distinct feature in marking the growth of the order and the city as well. It was thought it would at least be sufficient for the needs of the order for generations to come.

However, both it and the city were then but just getting under way. Such has been the unanticipated increase in membership that the building is inadequate to the use to which it is put, so a new site for a new temple has been chosen several blocks further east and again a bit north. The city has already extended in the same direction. The site is a fine one in proportions and especially admirable in that the thoroughfare on which it is located has a traffic quite equal to that of Chillicothe and rapidly expanding, so that such a structure as the Masons will erect can have full effect as a notable exposition of the city's importance.

RUNS ALL ONE WAY

THE news from Russia is distinctly encouraging, indicating that the dreadful riot of Bolshevism is on the wane. General Denikin is moving rapidly towards Moscow and winning many a big engagement. General Koltchak has successfully resumed the offensive in Siberia. General Kuhlke is moving steadily on to Petrograd and the Poles are hammering the Reds to pieces down below Riga.

It may be that the Allies were altogether right when they determined the better policy was to let Russia work and fight out her own troubles. A people who took their own redemption are stronger for that. That much is certain and the poor and unfortunate Russians stand in need of the lesson that the rule of Monarchs and scoundrels is as hateful as that of autocratic kings and Queens, that between them lies the happy means of order, security and peace.

IT JOGGED HIS MEMORY

WHEN a youth was before police court on a charge of being drunk and disorderly no amount of questioning could awaken his recollection as to where he got the liquor. However, when Mayor Kaps slapped a stiff fine on him he suddenly remembered.

The seller was promptly brought into court and he got a dose that will hold him for a time.

That's setting out in the right course in good style. These bootleggers are not alone violating the law. They are robbing the unfortunate and the reckless, selling them stuff that hammers their brains and threatens serious hurt to the whole constitution.

THE END IS A CERTAINTY

As told to the public, the news from Gary, Indiana, indicates that the headquarters of the anarchist gang, that distributed bombs over the country, last May, through the agency of the mails, has been located and some of the villains are under arrest.

It is to be hoped the news is true, but whether so or not, this much is certain, the gang will be eventually run down. It may take weeks and weeks, or months and months, but whenever the secret service of the United States starts after a gang of plotters it gets them.

It is after the bombing and murderous anarchists. None are immune against the attack of Old Higher Rent. At Columbus the state was threatened with eviction from its offices in the Straneman building if it did not come across with a raise of $3,000. It came across, all right, but if landlords would put up rents so high that half the departments couldn't find anywhere to operate the state would be a gainer at that.

Don't fate mock. But a little while ago Rodman Law was ascending the nation with his physical feats, among them making a record plane flight from Chicago to New York, leaping with a parachute from 3,000 feet in the air, jumping from the Statue of Liberty and the highest building in the world and being fired from a cannon. He died, this week, of consumption, a disease of the weak ordinarily.

SHE MARRIED AN AVERAGE MAN

It is past midnight. I have stolen time. And now I am actually under from my room to work off some of my spiritual thoughts in this little book of mine.

Christmas Eve! If I were a believer in the mystic I should think all of my remembered words were like the brightly colored words written through my body and my soul. I am beside myself with the joy of going to New York. We leave day after tomorrow. I am standing at one of life's crossroads. Presently I shall turn round into a new road, full of unknown possibilities, adventures, troubles, perhaps, but certainly experiences that will enrich our whole existence.

Jim has been dearest to me for the last few days. He has been sufficiently to take me into his confidence regarding our income and has voluntarily accepted me a regular allowance.

He and Helen, it seems, are equal partners in their engineering and contracting business, each to have a drawing account of $40 per week to begin. That seems a heap of money to me! I am to have $25 to run the house on and buy my personal things. He is to draw the check for the rent—and I shall see to it that we do not pay more than $15 a month for our apartment.

The only fly in my contentment is the unobtainable fact that I owe this month's installment to Charles Belmont. If it had been for that this evening at dinner the other night Jim would never have granted me privacy to know our exact income and have a regular allowance.

It puzzles me that Belmont has so much influence over Jim. The man is and always has been repugnant to me.

New - York - Day - By - Day

BY
O. O. MCINTYRE

NEW YORK, Oct. 16.—There is a sad, double-cake or so in the humor of the quietest jobs. I always found the quietest job in Manhattan to be a ritzy thing, while most of the sweatshops with a backing tonight. After her day juggling her wiles to white-wings, butters I imagined the slightly bearded child picking her dinner out of a garbage pail, or something.

You see I lived in a small town and believed everything in the Sunday papers and the live-out novels. This morning the most important member of my little household had me telephone to a dressmaking establishment to have them speed up for you a yellow, or yellow satin or tulle or what ever it was.

And a voice, delightfully Pauline, answered that Madam's frock—they're always frocks or gowns and never a dress—was done and would be dispatched. I waited for the freed child of the slums to come with it. When the doorbell rang about the snatched girl that ever escaped Zephthel was standing there with a package containing the dress.

She is the new type of errand girl. She was respectfully, roughed, and worn one of those zippy hats with dainties and carried a gold vanity case. And there I stood like a fat-headed fool with fifteen cents in my hand to tip her. The errand girls are on strike and so the dress-makers are ever it was.

WHO'S WHO

IN THE DAY'S NEWS

ROMER L. FERGUSON

Representing the Chamber of Commerce of the United States at the great industrial conference now in session in Washington is Romer L. Ferguson, president of that great organization of American business men. Ferguson is also president of the Newport News Shipbuilding and Dry Dock Company and is known as a headstrong, hard-headed, business man. He has under him about 10,000 men. Like other employers attending the conference, he is an advocate of the open shop, holding the opinion that all employers have been for arbitration in industrial disputes.

Ferguson owns stock in the Newport News Shipbuilding Company, and thus represents a type of chief executive which is expected to become more frequent with industrial development. Having an ownership interest, he stands somewhat in a position between owners and workers, with a clearer appreciation of each viewpoint, and has been exceptionally successful in dealing with employees, union and non-union.

Mr. Ferguson is a graduate of the Naval Academy and was formerly a naval architect.

His designs and headworkmen extra for delivering packages.

As a result of some of the best dressed women during about the town carrying packages to customers. And one messenger says: "You should see them. The all have gray heads and white hair. From my observation, there is not a messenger boy in town under 40."

As I have said, there is nothing so funny as life. For two years I have been shaving and economizing to buy a certain well-known security, and I awakened this morning to find in the paper that an advertisement being done the ball, who never knew the price of a house, had walked away with a fortune and will spend the rest of his life laughing it between Palm Beach and New York.

Horse thieves have suddenly grown into popular favor with the owners of all supposed run apartments over in the Cherry Hill district. The papers report at a "racket" over there the other night portions of a house valued at $20,000 were stolen and the stolen portions were sold for less than army underwear. Among other things that are reported to have been used lately are hair tonic, extra, prime whiskey and the lowly shoe polish.

The well-known group of baseball fans were collected around the ticker at the Claridge the day that Babe Ruth made his twenty-eighth home run. Afterward they collected around a table and over the propitious discussed the feat. The man in the party showed such a lack of interest that Barnard Hitchcock questioned him about it. It was learned that the stranger was a Brazilian professor of feeble languages and the fact that a man was able to send a sphere of rubber on a ball with a piece of wood that he could touch three bases nearly feet apart and get home before the ball was returned—meant nothing to his young Brazilian life.
